1.1 Overview of FPDS Validations

FPDS will validate data submitted to it. Types of validations include:

- Formatting (e.g., verifying dates are valid).

- Adherence to defined conventions such as the convention for a Contract Number entered into a Procurement Instrument Identifier (PIID) field.

- Code validation (e.g., verifying Contracting Agency Code is a valid code).

- Consistency with other data in order to enforce business rules (e.g., "If Competitive Procedures = 'Simplified Acquisition Procedures,' then Dollars Obligated must be less than or equal to $5,000,000.")

- Use-case specific (e.g., for Modifications, the entered PIID must match a PIID for an award that already exists in FPDS).

1.2 Guide to Validation Rules Document

The data elements in this document are listed followed by the validations that are unique to these data elements. The format of each validation entry includes Validation Reference Number, Data Elements (or Other Information Required for the Validation), and Validation Requirement.

The validations are organized by the FPDS Data Dictionary groupings and then by the Data Dictionary items:

a) If the Data Dictionary group is not reportable then none of the validation rules apply to that group.

b) If an item within that group is not reportable then validation rules for that particular item do not apply.

c) If an item within that group is reportable then validation rules for that particular item do apply.

If the data element is not reportable as shown in the Use Case Summary, the validation rule does not apply for that data element. If a cross validation (validation dependent on two or more data elements) includes an element that is not reportable, the validation is not performed.

Most validations are specific such as:

If Data Element A = N, then Data Element B must = M.

Some Validations are less specific such as:

If Contracting Agency Code indicates DoD, then Data Element A must = N.

In the above example, there are many Contracting Agency Codes that are DoD codes, so the validation specification is simplified although the implementation may be complex. The contractor is responsible for determining the best implementation.

There is no data element for "Use Case" or "Today's Date." Validations that reference these items assume that FPDS knows the date and that the user interface is tracking what the user is asking FPDS to do. Implementation of these pseudo-fields is the responsibility of the contractor.

The Use Case Summary (in the Data Dictionary) defines which data elements may be entered for each use case. Therefore, no validations are provided here to ensure that only allowable data elements are entered. The contractor is responsible for determining the best implementation.

Rule Versioning

The FPDS version number is listed for each rule, indicating that the rule applies to that version. The following table shows the sample effective version values and explanation. This document only has those rules that fire on version 1.5 and after. For information about rules that fire on previous versions, please see the previous Data Validation documents on the FPDS site.
